RING IN THE BELLS THIS SEASON

To celebrate the undiminished success of Campanelle (Italian for 'little bells') over six decades since its launch, Chantecler presented the Campanella 1947, inspired by the distinctive and precious craftsmanship of that era featuring numerous traditional Neapolitan gems.

The first Chantecler Campanella, known as la Première, was a special gift from co-founder Pietro Capuano to his friend, Contessa Edda

Ciano. One evening when the legendary Ingrid Bergman was invited to dinner at the brand founder's home, while on her honeymoon in Capri, she was captivated by it. The very next morning, a sparkling bell was delivered to her, and the rest as they say is history...

Over the years, countless celebrities such as Jacqueline Kennedy and Empress Soraya of Persia as also screen divas like Liz Taylor and Audrey Hepburn have adorned Campanelle's jewels enhancing their timeless appeal.

Here in Dubai, it's ISTANA that welcomes the legendary Italian jewellery brand Chantecler's much loved, iconic collection Campanelle. Featuring lucky, bell-shaped charms fashioned in pave-set precious stones, in gold and diamonds, in gemstones and semi-precious stones as earrings, rings and charms.

HOME GROWN BRAND LAUNCHES JEWELLERY LINE

Local designer Judith Hobby has gone from strength to strength with her clothing and recently she launched 'Fusion', her new accessories and jewellery lines. Made from natural, biodegradable and durable material, the jewellery from Fusion creatively uses bone, horn, wood, shell and brass in its designs. Historically, these materials have been used across many cultures as a symbol of power and good fortune. The natural beauty brings a source of good energy to the pieces and every small imperfection of nature gives a unique, one-of-a-kind appeal. The jewellery is also delicate and to be treated with care.

You can visit the website: judithhobbyclothing.com to marvel at the new jewellery and many other versatile designs available, or register online for the newsletter and keep up to date on the open house events.
